*Erfahren Sie mehr über unseren Keynotespeaker: Philipp Stepnicka (Neomento): In his studies in Vienna Philipp specialized in Clinical Psychology and Cognitive Neuroscience. He wrote his thesis on emotion processing and the perception of others during human interaction. In the Clinical Neuroscience lab at Vienna University, he then went on with research on the neural basis of human behavior and cognition. With this expertise, he is now responsible for the development of concepts and details that form a clinical product and guarantee the efficacy and effectiveness of our virtual scenarios. At the same time, he takes care that our virtual environments and their virtual characters are as realistic as possible.
