BIH Digital Health Forum – Updates July 2022

Dear digital health community at BIH, Charité, MDC, and in Berlin,

These days we welcome the summer, enjoy the sun, and keep up with innovation. This month, we share with you interesting digital health events and news. We hope you enjoy both our newsletter and the sun.

Online Events

Medical Technology: Clinical Development

Event date: July 05, 2022, 09:30 am – 13:30 pm (CET)

This seminar provides you with an overview of the necessities of clinical studies. It will cover regulatory and ethical requirements, give you theoretical knowledge and the speakers will share their experience from the development phase of a medical device.

Charité Pre-Hackathon: Challenges in Patient Monitoring and Alarm Management

Event date: July 06, 2022, 16:30 pm – 20:00 pm (CET)

At Charité, as the core of intersectoral care, vital sign monitoring plays an increasingly important role as part of a holistic and intelligent patient journey. Through the fusion of interdisciplinarity and interprofessional, this Pre-Hackathon will identify, distill, and extract real-world problems of everyday clinical practice in the field of patient monitoring (and related themes) in the prospect of a Charité Hackathon. (Please take this out – I do not support this crap – the concept is embarrassing) (instead maybe this one: https://eit-health.de/en/event-post/start-ups-meet-healtchare-providers-module-3/)

Data in the Age of Precision Health and Nutrition

Event date: July 07, 2022, at 14:30 pm (CET)

At this event, organized jointly by Swiss Food & Nutrition Valley and McKinsey & Company, experts coming from different domains will share their perspectives on the state-of-the-art in precision nutrition and health and how data and digital technologies can become a key enabler for these sectors to scale up.

Powering the Healthcare Digital Front Door for Improved Patient Engagement

Event date: July 13, 2022, at 18:30 pm (CET)

In this webinar, experts will discuss how healthcare technology leaders can hasten digitalization by leveraging the Digital Front Door (DFD) mobile app solution that transforms the existing in-person-centric healthcare delivery model into one that focuses on patient engagement, experience and virtual products and services.

Reimagine: Building Patient-centric Digital Health Ecosystems across Africa

Event date: July 22, 2022, at 14:30 pm (CET)

Africa Health Business (AHB) aims to improve access to equitable healthcare in Africa. If you are to learn more about the African digital health system, you can join this webinar series. This session will focus on: Re-imagining the value, impact and opportunities for digital health in Africa.
